

Book Name - Teaching of English
 writer Name - DR. M. Gopalakrishnan publications - V. Thakur Publications

Merits -

- ① The writer was one of those who first paid attention to the selection and grading of vocabulary and took the first step in its reform.
- ② This book is very effective in the teaching of reading through it has some important pedagogical draw back.
- ③ In view of the limited time now available for English and considering the fact that most of the Indian children will need only a passive knowledge of it in their future occupations, this method can profitably be employed in teaching the language in India.
- ④ The graded readers, companions, composition books, supplementary readers the teachers' handbooks were all interesting and appeared to be helpful.

Demerits

- (1) They hold that a speaking knowledge is easier to acquire than a reading or writing.
- (2) Language learning is seen dull.
- (3) This book does not give due importance ~~to~~ ^{to} importance to the oral work.
- (4) The frequent use of the same word may develop an artificial style.
- (5) Linguistic materials is not good.

Book Name — pedagogy of English writer Name — N. Rajeswari publications — santha publishers

Merits

- ① Reading book is such a interesting activity.
- ② Reading stimulates brain activities.
- ③ Reading eliminates stress.
- ④ also help you improve your memory.
- ⑤ also help you improve your knowledge and skills.

Demerits

(1)

This book writer views that a reading knowledge of a language is easier to acquire than a speaking is not supported by the modern educators.

(2)

If the pupils have to start with reading in the initial stage, the language learning is sure to be dull and lifeless to him. So it is un-psychological.

(3)

Students should not begin reading till they have acquired facility in speech and a fairly large vocabulary.

(4)

He has neglected the graduated introduction of science patterns and also of the phrases and idioms that are essential elements in developing language sense.